The members will not visit the hospitals individually ; the Committee will form itself into groups of not less than five members, each group in turn will, according to a roster to be kept for the purpose, visit the hospitals on a fixed day and at a fixed time in each month. In addition to these visits at fixed times the members will pay unexpected visits to the hospitals, provided that they do not go at times which are inconvenient to the hospital authorities. If all the five members of the group are not present, the remaining members can go round without the absentee or absentees, as the case may be. The members constituting the group should inspect the internal arrangements and offer such suggestions regarding the administration of the institution as they think proper. The Committee as a whole will meet at least once a quarter, review the reports of the visiting groups and discuss the remedial measures adopted. The Superintendent of the Medical College Hospitals should attend the meetings of the Visiting Committee.

A visitor's book will be kept in the hospitals in which the recommendations of the Committee will be recorded. The Superintendent will note on the margin the action taken on each recommendation with any other remarks or explanations that he may wish to offer. He will transmit a copy of the entries without delay to the Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal for consideration. The Surgeon-General will take such further action as may seem necessary and will bring to the notice of Government any matter which he thinks sufficiently important. The members will hold office for one year from the date of appointment.

DRAFT RULES.

Preliminary.

These rules are applicable to, and shall be followed by persons in charge of, all inland steam-vessels, and all other vessels, hereinafter specified, on all inland waters in Bengal on which steam-vessels ply, provided that rules 8, 21, 22 and 23 shall not apply to steam-vessel plying on the river Hooghly, between a line drawn west of Saugor Island Lighthouse and the northern boundary of the Port of Calcutta.

For the purposes of these rules—

- (a) a vessel shall be deemed to be "underway" when she is not at anchor or made fast to the shore or aground, and

- (c) The word "steam vessel" shall include any vessel propelled by machinery.

Article 2.—(1) A steam-vessel when underway shall carry—

- (a) in the forepart of the vessel above the awning roof a bright white light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of 20 points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light 10 points on each side of such vessel, viz., from right ahead to 2 points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least 2 miles;

(2) The said green and red side-lights shall be fitted with inboard screens projecting at least 3 feet forward from the light, so as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

Such steam-vessels together with the vessel towed by them shall be taken as one vessel for the purpose of this rule.

(4).—A steam-vessel when towing other vessels astern shall, in addition to her side-lights, carry two bright white lights in a vertical line one over the other not less than 3 feet apart in the fore part of the vessel. Each of these lights shall be of the same construction and character as the light prescribed in Article 2 (a).

Article 4.—All vessels under oars or sails when under way, and all vessels being towed astern shall not be obliged to carry the lights mentioned in Article 2 (1) (b) and (c) but if they do not carry them they shall, in those cases where there is a mast, carry thereon a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform and unbroken light visible all round, and in those cases where there is no mast, shall show continuously a similar white light from a conspicuous position so as to be visible all round.

Article 5.—A vessel which is being overtaken by another, shall show from her stern to such last mentioned vessel a white light.

Article 6.—Every vessel, when at anchor, or made fast to the shore or to a jetty or landing stage or to another vessel not underway, shall carry where it can best be seen, a white light in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform and unbroken light visible all round at a distance of at least 1 mile.

A vessel aground in or near a fairway shall carry the above light.

Article 7.—A steam-vessel using the electric search-light shall on meeting another throw the light broadly on that side of the river which she intends to take. When a steam-vessel makes fast to allow another such vessel to pass, the search-light of the stationary vessel shall be either extinguished or be kept broad on the bank until the moving vessel has passed.

Article 8.—Whenever a red cone or red flag is hoisted by a dredger it shall be taken as a warning by other vessels not to pass her as she is engaged in dredging.

Sound Signals for Fog, etc.

Every person in charge of a steam-vessel shall, as far as circumstances permit, ascertain the risk of collision by carefully watching the compass bearing of an approaching vessel. If the bearing does not appreciably change, such risk should be deemed to exist.

Article 12.—When two steam-vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, so as to involve risk of collision, each shall alter her course to starboard so that each may pass on the port side of the other.

This Article only applies to cases where vessels are meeting end on, or nearly end on, in such manner as to involve risk of collision and does not apply to two vessels which must, if both keep on their respective courses, pass clear of each other.

The only cases to which it does apply are when each of the two vessels is end on, or nearly end on, to the other; and by night, to cases in which each vessel is in such a position as to see both the sidelights of the other.

It does not apply, by day, to cases in which a vessel sees another ahead crossing her own course, or by night to cases where the red light of one vessel is opposed to the red light of the other, or where the green light of one vessel is opposed to the green light of the other, or where a red light without a green light, or a green light without a red light, is seen ahead; or where both green and red lights are seen anywhere but ahead.

Article 13.—When two steam-vessels are crossing, so as to involve risk of collision, the vessel which has the other on her own starboard side shall keep out of the way of the other.

Article 14.—When a steam-vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such directions as to involve risk of collision, the steam-vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Article 15.—Where by any of these rules one of two vessels is to keep out of the way the other shall keep her course and speed.

Provided that when, in consequence of thick weather or other cause, the vessel which should be given way comes so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way vessel alone, she also shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision.

Article 16.—Every steam-vessel, which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid crossing ahead of the other.

Article 17.—Every steam-vessel, which is directed by these rules to keep out of the way of another vessel shall, on approaching her, if necessary, slacken her speed or stop or reverse.

Article 18.—Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules, every steam-vessel overtaking any other shall keep out of the way of the overtaken vessel.

Every steam-vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction than two points abaft her beam, i.e., in such a position with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's sidelights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall make the overtaking vessel a crossing vessel within the meaning of these rules or relieve her of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forward of or abaft this direction from the other vessel she should, if in doubt, assume that she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.

Article 19.—In narrow channels every steam-vessel shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of the fairway or midchannel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel.

Article 20.—In obeying and construing these rules due regard shall be had to all dangers of navigation and collision, and to any special circumstances which may render a departure from the above rules necessary in order to avoid immediate danger.

Article 21.—When steam-vessels going in opposite directions meet in a narrow river with deep bights or when a long spit of sand is formed on a point the steam-vessel going against the tide shall keep under the point giving the bight to the steam-vessel going with the tide.

Article 22.—When two steam-vessels meet in a straight reach of a narrow river the vessel going with the tide shall stop and make fast to allow the vessel going against the tide to proceed past at a very slow speed. If either of the two vessels has flats in tow alongside and it is necessary to cast off a flat or flats the vessel going against the tide shall drop one flat astern and if there is still insufficient room then the vessel that is made fast shall cast off one or more of her flats as may be necessary.

Article 23.—No steam-vessel shall attempt to strive or race against another. When steam-vessels are proceeding in the same direction, but with unequal speed, the vessel which is steaming slowest shall in the narrow reaches of a river offer no obstruction whatever by crossing the channel or otherwise to the free passage of the faster vessel, and shall ease and if necessary stop the engines as soon as the faster vessel comes abreast in order to allow her to pass freely. The master or pilot of the faster vessel if intending to pass, shall intimate such approach by a prolonged blast from his steam whistle. But no vessel shall pass another vessel at any of the turning points or bends of a river, or in a part of the channel so narrow that a third vessel could not with safety pass them.

Article 24.—No steam or motor-vessel shall get under way, either from her anchor or from the river bank, and turn across the river when another vessel is seen approaching from either up or down stream at such a distance that it is doubtful whether the approaching vessel can safely pass her before the turning round or crossing of the river is completed.

Article 25.—When two steam-vessels proceeding in opposite directions are likely to meet at the junction of two rivers, the vessel in the wider of the two streams shall not attempt to enter the narrower river, until the vessel in such latter river has passed out.

Sound Signals for Vessels in Sight of one another.

Article 26.—The words "short blast" used in this rule shall mean a blast of about one second's duration.

Every steam-vessel under way shall, when in sight of any other vessel, in taking any course authorised or required by these rules, indicate that course by the following signals on her whistle or siren, viz. :—

One short blast to mean, "I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean, "I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean, "My engines are going full speed astern."

Proper Precautions to be Taken in all cases.

Article 27.—Nothing in these rules shall exonerate the owner, or master, or crew of any steam-vessel from the consequences of any neglect to carry lights or signals or of any neglect to keep a proper lookout, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of seamen, or by the special circumstances of the case.

NOTE.—The practice of conning inland steam-vessels from a position alongside of, or between, flats which obstruct the view, will be considered a breach of this article. Navigation should be controlled from a position which gives a clear view ahead and to two points abaft the beam on either side.

Penalty for Disobedience of the Rules.

Article 28.—Any person committing a breach of any of these rules shall, for each offence, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

THE CHARITABLE ENDOWMENTS ACT, 1890.

Minister-in-charge: The Hon'ble Nawab Musaharruf Hossain, Khan Bahadur.

No. 448 Edn.—The 4th February 1928.—Whereas by a notification No. 1409, dated the 31st March 1896, under the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, upon the application of Maharaja Bahadur Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, K.C.S.I., an Endowment was created of a fund comprising Rs. 15,000 of 3½ per cent. Government Promissory Notes for the maintenance of certain stipends to be awarded to tal Pandits for the promotion of Sanskrit learning in accordance with a scheme (hereinafter referred to as the original scheme) particulars hereof were set forth in the second schedule to such notification, and under such scheme the Principal for the time being of the Government Sanskrit College of Calcutta was constituted the administrator of the Fund.

And whereas upon the application (under section 6 of the said Act) and with the concurrence of Dr. Adityanath Mukherjee, M.A., Ph.D., L.E.S., the Principal for the time being of the said Government Sanskrit College of Calcutta, as the person acting in the administration of the trust and also with the concurrence of Maharaja Bahadur Sir Prodyot Kumar Tagore of Tagore Castle, Calcutta (the successor in title of the original Donor) whose wishes as to awarding stipends under the Endowment were directed to be consulted under the original scheme, the Government of Bengal in the Ministry of Education has thought fit to substitute another scheme instead of the said original scheme under the powers in that behalf contained in section 5, sub-section (2) of the said Act.

It is hereby notified that the Government of Bengal in the Ministry of Education upon such application and with such concurrence as aforesaid doth hereby order and direct that the scheme particulars whereof are set forth in the first schedule hereunder written shall be substituted for the said original scheme and shall come into operation as from the date of first publication of this notification, and that the securities comprised in the original Endowment of the nominal value of Rs. 15,000 together with the additional securities of the nominal value of Rs. 2,700 purchased out of unexpended income and directed by clause 2 of the substituted scheme to be added to the Fund (particulars of which total securities of the nominal value of Rs. 17,700 are set forth in the second schedule hereunder written) shall thenceforth be vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments for the territories subject to the Government of Bengal to be held by him and his successors (subject to the provisions of the said Act and the rules made thereunder) in trust to apply the same and the income thereof for the maintenance of the said Endowment upon terms of such substituted scheme.

Schedule I.

1. This Endowment shall continue to be called "The Hurro Kumar Tagore Tal Stipend" in memory of the Donor's father.
2. Whereas out of unexpended income of the Fund under the original scheme the original administrator purchased 3½ per cent. Government Promissory Notes of the nominal value of Rs. 2,700 with a view to the addition thereof to the capital of the original Fund, such additional Promissory Notes shall no longer be deemed to be income but shall be added to the original Fund making a total nominal Fund of Rs. 17,700 of 3½ per cent. Government Promissory Notes.

3. The Fund shall be administered by the Principal for the time being of the Sanskrit College, Calcutta (hereinafter referred to as "the administrator"), provided always that during any vacancy in the post of Principal of the said College the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, may exercise any of the powers or duties of the administrator under this scheme.

4. The object of the Endowment is the promotion of Sanskrit learning by means of encouragement and support of teachers of Sanskrit in Bengal by granting stipends to those whose pupils are successful at examinations as hereinafter mentioned, or if any stipends be not awarded to teachers then by granting such unawarded stipends to meritorious students of Sanskrit in the said province as hereinafter mentioned.

5. The income of the Fund amounting to Rs. 619-8 per annum shall be paid when and as it accrues by the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments, Bengal, to the administrator and shall be applied in providing the following stipends:—

Rs.	Rs.
1 of 3 per mensem	36 per annum.
4 of 4 "	192 "
4 of 5 "	240 "
2 of 6 "	144 "
(11 stipends).	612 "

The above will leave a surplus of Rs. 7-8 per annum which shall be accumulated and when the accumulated amount reaches the figure Rs. 60, this amount (Rs. 60) shall be applied as an additional stipend of Rs. 5 per mensem for 12 months commencing as soon after such accumulation as may be convenient.

6. Each stipend shall be awarded for twelve months only, such 12 months to begin in such month in each case as the administrator shall decide, but not later than three months after the respective recipient has been finally ascertained in manner hereinafter provided.

7. Recipients of the stipends shall be selected as hereinafter provided, but shall always be subject to the approval and decision of the successor in title of the Maharaja Tagore, provided always that every selection shall be notified to the Maharaja Tagore for the time being as soon as conveniently possible and if not objected to by the Maharaja within three months after being notified to him any selected recipient shall be deemed to be approved and ascertained. If the Maharaja for the time being shall be a minor under the age of 18 years or if his approval cannot be obtained by reason of his ill health, absence or for any other reason the approval shall be given by the Chief Manager for the being of the Tagore Raj or failing him by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, for the time being.

8. Recipients of stipends shall be selected from among adhyapakas or teachers of such candidates as shall pass the undermentioned examinations, excluding those teachers who obtain any similar stipends granted by the Government of Bengal for encouragement of teachers of Sanskrit. The examinations referred to are those set by the Sanskrit Association, Calcutta, and held or conducted by various Sanskrit Associations recognised under the rules prescribed by resolution of the Government of Bengal, No. 857, dated the 21st March 1892, and notification No. 4236, dated the 29th December 1896, and notification No. 1409, dated the 31st March 1898, or the other rules for the time being in force in connection therewith. Preference shall be given to teachers at those tais whose students are examined before the Calcutta Pandit Sabha.

This scheme shall be applicable to both the first and the second examinations set by the Sanskrit Association yearly.

The number of stipends to be awarded shall be as follows:—

(a) On the results of the first examination in each year—

Four stipends of Rs. 4 each per mensem.
One stipend of Rs. 3 per mensem.

(b) On the results of the second examination in each year—

Two stipends of Rs. 6 each per mensem.
Four stipends of Rs. 5 each per mensem.

When the additional stipend of Rs. 5 per mensem referred to in clause 5 above becomes available, it shall be awardable as if there had been five stipends of Rs. 5 each per mensem provided for on results of the second examination next following.

9. Stipends shall ordinarily be awarded as follows. The marks obtained by the passed candidates from each indigenous tal in the said province (preference being given to those tals whose candidates are examined before the Calcutta Pandit Sabha) shall be added together. Stipends shall be awarded to those teachers whose tals show the highest aggregates of marks, and as between the successful teachers those with the higher aggregates shall ordinarily receive the more valuable stipends for the respective examinations. In the case of a "tie" or equality of marks for two teachers in respect of the last stipend such stipend shall be divided between them. But the Maharaja Tagore or his Chief Manager or failing them the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal (as the case may be) may nevertheless disapprove of any so selected and may finally approve any other teacher from any other tal at his discretion. If there be more than one teacher at any of the qualified tals, each one shall be eligible for a stipend. If there shall not be sufficient approved teachers at tals whose candidates appear before the Calcutta Pandit Sabha, then teachers from other tals chosen by the administrator (subject to the approval of the Maharaja Tagore for the time being as aforesaid or in default by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, as aforesaid) shall become eligible and be selected in like manner.

10. A teacher may not hold more than one stipend at a time, but if he shall become eligible for two or more stipends he shall ordinarily be given the higher stipend. If any teacher receiving a stipend under this scheme comes into receipt of a Government stipend he shall cease to receive a stipend under this scheme as from the first month in which he receives a Government stipend.

11. If a recipient shall die during the 12 months in which he is to receive a stipend the balance of his stipend (after the month in which his death occurs) shall be accumulated and applied as if it were accumulations of the annual surplus of Rs. 7-8 hereinbefore provided for or at the discretion of the administrator and with the approval of the Maharaja or his Chief Manager or failing them the Director of Public Instruction (as the case may be) in manner aforesaid may be awarded to any meritorious student as undermentioned.

12. In the event of any stipend to teachers as aforesaid not being awarded whether on account of absence of eligible teachers or for any other reason, the moneys so left unawarded may be applied in giving stipends to meritorious passed candidates at the said examinations, preference being given in the first instance to candidates appearing before the Calcutta Pandit Sabha, and in the ordinary course those who obtain most marks shall be considered most meritorious, but selection shall be in the discretion of the administrator, subject to such approval of the Maharaja or his Chief Manager or failing them the Director of Public Instruction as aforesaid.

13. In the event of any case arising regarding the administration of this Endowment which is not provided for by this scheme, the administrator shall take action as may be decided in consultation by him with the Maharaja Tagore for the time being or if he is not available then with the Director of Public Instruction for the time being.
